This holiday give a gift from the heart. Give HeartART.

It's not too late to send family, friends and business associates one of my hand-painted Christmas cards, but you'll have to put your order in soon! And it's not too late to purchase gift packets of my all-occasion, hand-painted notecards to use as stocking stuffers, either. To preview my wide array of designs, please visit the HeartART section of my website at www.SuzetteBoulais.com. My notecard gift packets are also available at Beck's Florist, Monroe Gallery, I Know You Like A Book and Picture This Gallery and Framing.

The hills are alive with The Sound of Music colors

If I ever decide to write a book someday, I think I'd like to title it, "Everything I Needed to Learn In Life, I Learned From Watching The Sound of Music." Even this painting, "View From The Course", is loosely inspired by the classic movie with its green mountain view, swirling clouds, and blue skies. To see more of my abstract paintings, please visit www.SuzetteBoulais.com.

Logos to go _____

Looking to update or create a new logo?

Let me enhance your image-building efforts

Are you looking to update or revamp your existing logo? Let me help. Here is a logo I recently designed for Floral Expressions when owner Dave Cramer asked me to create a more contemporary logo for his downtown Peoria floral shop.

My design shows a tulip in a simple gesture of reaching up and outward toward the light.

If you'd like me to update your existing logo or develop an entirely new look and logo for your group or business, please email me at Suzette@SuzetteBoulais.com.

Alicia Curtis next to "Our Soleil"

Here is one of my paintings, "Our Soleil," in golds, yellows, oranges and reds to complement the rich Tuscan color scheme in this Metamora home. For more photos of my artwork in their Happy Homes go to www.SuzetteBoulais.com.
